- The Big 5 questions engage the whole class in debate, encouraging students to take a stand on the core issues of the books.
- Activities for each Lead Book profile require students to work independently or in small groups to find text-based evidence for analytical questions.
- The Teacher’s Guide offers direct instruction for developing comprehension skills, with opportunities to apply the skills in the Reader’s Handbook.
- Stretch Texts accompany each book. These complex, texts include a range of nonfiction text types, including critical reviews, excerpts from speeches and memoirs, and nonfiction articles. These rigorous texts challenge students to build higher-level comprehension skills.
- Comprehension Checks provide assessment opportunities for each of the Lead Books and Reader’s Choice Books as well as for each Stretch Text.

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity 10. By the end of the year, read and comprehend literary nonfiction at the high end of the grades 6–8 text complexity band independently and proficiently.	On the Record exposes students to a wide range of complex, quality texts, while providing them the scaffolding they need to access, comprehend, and respond to what they read. The following are the three types of books offered in the program: Lead Books offer the opportunity to analyze text as a whole class with teacher-led instruction. Reader’s Choice Books offer opportunities to apply close-reading skills independently or in small groups. Rich, text-dependent questions demand that students analyze text on a complex level. Stretch Texts offer texts in varying formats by or about the people profiled in On the Record. These texts stretch students’ reading comprehension skills with higher levels of text complexity and challenging performance tasks. Each On the Record Lead Book, Reader’s Choice Book, and Stretch Text is accompanied by a Complexity Index chart showing the three criteria for measuring complexity: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On the Record uses Lexile as its quantitative measure of complexity. The quantitative measure takes into account concrete factors such as word length, word frequency, sentence length, and word difficulty. • The qualitative measure assesses the complexity of meaning and purpose, text structure and organization, language conventionality and clarity, and prior knowledge demands placed on the reader. • On the Record uses a Qualitative Measure (QM) rubric to assign a score to these measures. These scores are then used to assign the overall QM rating. (p. 19 Teacher’s Guide)

	On the Record also factors the reader to the task. This measure considers variable elements such as a reader’s level of motivation, his or her prior experience with a topic, and the complexity of the tasks and questions asked of the reader. On the Record identifies some of the considerations that that will affect individual readers in different ways.
Language Conventions of Standard English 1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking. Explain the function of verbals (gerunds, participles, infinitives) in general and their function in particular sentences. Form and use verbs in the active and passive voice. Form and use verbs in the indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive mood. Recognize and correct inappropriate shifts in verb voice and mood.* 2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing. Use punctuation (comma, ellipsis, dash) to indicate a pause or break. Use an ellipsis to indicate an omission. Spell correctly.	Reporting Live: “At the Tip of the Spear”; Reader’s Handbook: Writing Focus; Craft Well-Built Sentences State of Emergency: “Bearing Witness”; Reader’s Handbook: Writing Focus; Apply Strong Verbs Essay writing rubrics and checklists help teachers and students evaluate different writing forms including Writer’s Craft which focuses on conventions of standard English.
Knowledge of Language 3. Use knowledge of language and its conventions when writing, speaking, reading, or listening. Use verbs in the active and passive voice and in the conditional and subjunctive mood to achieve particular effects (e.g., emphasizing the actor or the action; expressing uncertainty or describing a state contrary to fact).	Every Lead Book contains in the Reader’s Handbook an Analyze Text and a Cite Text Evidence section. The tasks in this section provide text-dependent questions that require students to read closely and cite evidence. Vocabulary Acquisition and Use 4. Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words or phrases based on grade 8 reading and content, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies. Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence or paragraph; a word’s position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase.	All Reader’s Handbooks for the Lead Books, Reader’s Choice and Stretch Books titles contain an Acquire Academic & Content Vocabulary section and Vocabulary Check quizzes.
